Former CEO of Talisman Joins Rodinia Board of Directors

CALGARY, AB – August 26, 2008 – Rodinia Oil Corp. (“Rodinia”) today announced that Dr. James W. Buckee, former President and CEO of Talisman Energy Inc., has recently joined its Board of Directors.

“Dr. Buckee brings a wealth of knowledge and industry contacts to Rodinia,” said Paul Bennett, President of Rodinia. “His experience in the international oil and gas industry from exploration to development is second to none. We are thrilled that he has chosen Rodinia as one of his first North American boards on which to serve since leaving Talisman. By joining the Rodinia board, Dr. Buckee is demonstrating his continued interest in the upstream energy business.”

Dr. Buckee spent two decades at the helm of Talisman Energy Inc., one of Canada's largest independent oil and gas corporations, retiring on August 31, 2007.

About Rodinia

Rodinia is a junior oil and natural gas corporation focused solely on high impact onshore exploration in Australia. Rodinia has exclusive access to over 23 million gross acres of under-explored lands within the Officer and Georgina Basins in Australia, which may have significant hydrocarbon potential based upon Rodinia’s recently acquired seismic data, known geologic history and the existence of analogous basins in Oman and in Siberia, Russia. Rodinia is based in Calgary, Alberta.
